"Don't Move That Car An Inch,"
They Told Her

LICENSE REQUIRED. Mrs. George Barnes has found that highway police in Virginia expect you to have a license plate on your car, and they don't mean maybe.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and daughter, Barbara, and Mrs. Barnes' sister-in-law, Mrs. L. M. Hancock, drove to Waynesboro, Virginia, last week to attend commencement exercises at Fairfax Hall for the Barnes' other daughter, Lynda.

They drove a new car, for which Mr. Barnes had title, but the Illinois license plates hadn't arrived, so they put the title in the glove compartment.

Mr. Barnes flew back to Harrisburg and the women folk continued on a little vacation in the east. He had hardly arrived home when he received a telephone call from Mrs. Barnes. Officers had stopped Mrs. Barnes at Arlington, Virginia, because she had no license plates on the car. She explained the circumstances, but that wasn't enough.

"We are supposed to lock you up and impound your car," they told her.

She suggested buying Virginia licenses so she could continue her trip, but they said she did not have Mr. Barnes' power of attorney, and the car was owned by him. Wives didn't count.

"DON'T MOVE THAT CAR AN INCH," they told her, "until you get plates under legal regulations."

She didn't. She called Mr. Barnes (as mentioned). He called W. B. Westbrook, of Harrisburg, chief auto license clerk in the office of Illinois Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier. He issued new, temporary licenses, as the regular application was being processed. He put the license on an airplane one morning. The next afternoon they had been delivered, were on the Barnes car and the girls were on their way.

HARDIN COUNTY NEWS: If not uranium in Hardin county—perhaps vanadium.

The Hardin County Independent reports on the Illinois Geological Survey's "Preliminary Report on Uranium in Hardin County, Illinois," which says that 25 samples chemically analyzed for uranium oxide "contain less than 0.1 percent of the minimum of 0.1 percent for which prices are quoted by the Atomic Energy Commission."

The survey points out that the report is preliminary in nature and is subject to revision as additional data becomes available.

BUT—William Cheneau of Louisville, Ky., has come back to Hardin county to direct additional exploration in the Hicks Dome area because a chemical analysis of samples taken from their previous trenching revealed some vanadium oxide, according to Cheneau, who declared that the U. S. Vanadium Corp. suggested that additional samples be taken.

The Independent said Cheneau admitted that the vanadium content was not very rich and he was not sure what percentage would be necessary in this area for economic mining of vanadium.

Five Cars Pile Up When Truck Partly Blocks Highway

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. — One man suffered a slight cut on his chin Friday when five vehicles piled up in an accident after a large truck partly blocked the highway.

The truck was unloading sewer pipe on Ill. 37 when Harold Lee Patterson, Shannon, stopped to let traffic go by. Joe B. Hale, Salem, drove his pickup truck into the rear of the car. Hale's chin was slightly cut.

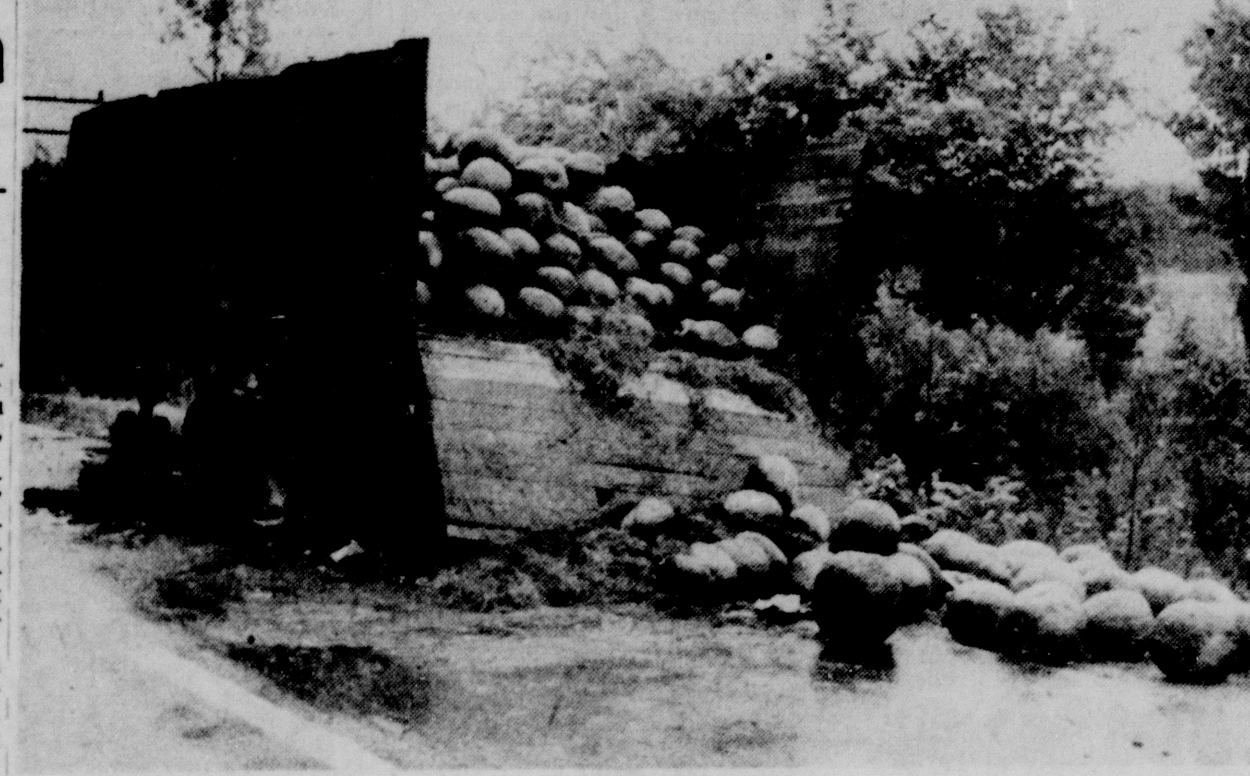

In quick succession, cars driven by Clark Griffith, West Frankfort, Charles Hinman, Barlow, and James C. Doss, Warren, ran into the pileup from the rear. At least one gas tank was split and the fire department stood by while the pileup was pulled apart.

Two Youths Fined

Two teen-age lads from Gallatin county who were chased down Thursday night by Chief of Police Ross Lane as they rode through Harrisburg, pleaded guilty to charges of speeding when arraigned before Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie yesterday. Each was fined $14.40.

Chinese Reds Gradually Snuffing Out Religion, Expelled Bishop Says

HONG KONG (UP)—Roman Catholic Bishop Frederick A. Donaghy, 52, of New Bedford, Mass., said today that the Communists are gradually snuffing out religion in Red China.

Bishop Donaghy, who has spent 26 years in China as a Maryknoll missionary, arrived in Hong Kong Friday after being expelled by the Reds from his Wuchow Diocese for "subversive activities."

He told a press conference that it was "untrue" that there is freedom of religion in Red China.

Under the Communist regime, he said, the faithful manage to "keep alive" their religion, but they cannot do so openly.

The bishop said the Reds maintain a "constant wearing down" process to keep Catholics from attending mass.

Great Odds He said the people have persisted in their religion as much as possible against great odds, despite intimidations and outright threats not to attend services.

But the eroding effect of the Communist anti-religion campaign apparently is beginning to show, he added.

The white-haired bishop, who had not seen a foreigner in four years and who has not been in the United States in 17 years, declined to answer questions pertaining to military affairs or economics in Red China because he felt there might be repercussions against Catholics still in China.

Trumped-Up Charges Bishop Donaghy said the Chinese Reds arrested him in December, 1950, on "trumped-up charges of having a package of opium and a revolver" in his home.

The Reds jailed Bishop Donaghy for five months until May, 1951, when he was released after still refusing to confess. He said he did sign a paper saying a revolver and opium were found in his home, but not saying that he knew it was there.

Week Long Meeting Held by Shawnee Forest Personnel

A meeting for district rangers and general district assistants in the six districts of the Shawnee National Forest was held all week in the Shawnee headquarters in Harrisburg with E. N. Lee, forest supervisor, in charge.

Discussed were policy and plans for operations and next year's financial picture. Merle Lowden from the Milwaukee Regional office attended as an observer.

On Wednesday night at a dinner meeting, 20-year certificates issued by the Secretary of Agriculture were issued to five of the Shawnee Forest personnel and two of the personnel received 10-year certificates.

Those who received 20-year certificates were: Kenneth Smith, who has been in the Harrisburg office for the past 20 years; Miss Iona Shaw, transferred here from Missouri a little more than a year ago; Harold Hansen, administrative assistant here; Tommy Turner, general district assistant at Vienna; and Joseph Maier, general district assistant at Jonesboro.

Homer Minton, fire guard in the Jonesboro district, and John Scoville, lookout in the Winona district of Missouri, received 10-year certificates.

The meeting began Monday and ended yesterday. The Shawnee National Forest is comprised of three districts in Illinois and three in Missouri.

Graveside Service For George Infant

A graveside service was held today at 10 a. m. at St. Joseph cemetery near Elizabethtown for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl George, Harrisburg RFD 3, who died yesterday morning a few hours following birth.

The baby was born prematurely by Caesarean section at the Harrisburg hospital.

22-Inch Rainfall

Rainfall from 7 a. m. yesterday to 7 a. m. today measured 22 inch, Harrison Kibler reported.

Semi-Trailer with 1,060 Watermelons Catches Fire on Rt. 45

The Carrier Mills-Stonefort area this morning became the watermelon center of southern Illinois.

It all happened because a semi-trailer carrying 1,060 watermelons got stopped in the area because it caught fire.

State Policeman Adolph Sweet, who was called out to investigate, said the accident occurred at 2 a. m. on Route 45 four miles south of Carrier Mills.

The truck was driven by Olin Chailand, 36, of 106 North Main street, Jonesboro, Ark. He told Sweet that a tire blew out and that friction from the blown-out tire rubbing on the frame caused the blaze.

The Carrier Mills fire department was called to extinguish the fire.

Chailand was transporting the more than a thousand watermelons from Dade City, Fla., to Indianapolis.

Oil Report: Eight Wells, Five Abandoned Holes in Week

From the Robertson Tri-State Oil Report

Eight wells, five abandoned and one temporarily abandoned holes are in the Saline county oil report for the period ending June 9.

Biggest producer was Richard Portis' Simpson community No. 1, N. E. SE SW, 16-8-7e, where a well in the Waltersburg had initial production of 1680 barrels per day on flow after fracture.

John Stelle Associates' Arthur Watson et al communized No. 1, N. W. SE SW, 16-8-7e, had initial production of 90 barrels per day on flow.

Miami Operating Company's Stanley Edmister community No. 2, N. E. SE SW, 13-8-7e, made an oil well in the Tar Springs with initial production of 45 barrels per day on pump.

Inland's Koker No. 3, N. E. SE SW, 11-8-7e, had initial production of 192 barrels per day on pump from the Waltersburg. The Koker No. 5, S. W. NW SW, 11-8-7e, had initial production of 168 barrels per day on pump from the Waltersburg and the Koker No. 7 had initial production of 192 barrels per day from the Waltersburg. Its description is N. E. NW SW, 11-8-7e.

C. E. Brehm's Gill Community No. 1, N. E. NE NW, 30-7-5e, made an oil well in the Aux Vases with initial production of 103 barrels per day on pump after fracture.

Pilot Burned to Death in Jet Crash

FLINT, Mich. — The pilot of an Air Force F89D Scorpion jet was burned to death Friday night when his plane caught fire on a routine training flight and crashed near Bishop Field here.

Air Force officials identified the victim as Lt. Joseph A. Bostic, 27, of Springfield, Mo. They said a radar man, Lt. Leo P. Bouska, 23, of Shawnee, Okla., was pulled to safety by two civilians.

An Air Force spokesman said Bostic was practicing instrument landings on a routine flight from Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, Mich., when his right engine caught fire. They said he jettisoned live rockets in a nearby cornfield and an armament team was sent to disarm them.

Democrats Hit Benson's Low Price on Wheat

New Support Level
Of $1.81 Will Be 76
Per Cent of Parity

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congressional Democrats today assailed Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's decision to set wheat price controls at the lowest dollar level since 1946.

They said it indicates he is trying to destroy the farm program.

The new parity level was announced Friday just after the Agriculture Department's crop reporting board estimated the 1955 crop at 845 million bushels, the smallest since 1943.

The department said the new support level will be 76 per cent of parity. This means price support loans will be available to growers in commercial wheat states at a national minimum average of $1.81 a bushel.

Comparable figures for the 1955 crop are $2.06 a bushel, based on 82 1/2 per cent of parity.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N. C.) of the House Agriculture Committee said the price support announcement "is pretty positive evidence that Benson intends to destroy the farm program."

"It is clear indication," Cooley said, "that Mr. Benson ultimately will lower the price of every farm commodity in America and force a lot of people off farms and into the city streets to look for jobs."

Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), No. 2 Democrat on the committee, said Benson may have figured "this was a good way to defeat controls, and it may very well have that result," he said. "A farmer allowed only three-fourths of a fair price, and only three-fourths of a crop, can't be expected to be very happy about it."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called the announcement "almost unbelievable" and said it "will be disastrous for American agriculture." He predicted it will lead to rejection of marketing quotas.

A department official explained that despite the low crop estimate, "there is still too much wheat compared with what normally is necessary for domestic and foreign consumption." He said the short crop added to a whopping carry-over meant a huge total supply which simply forced the parity level down.

The $1.81 a bushel average support price will be maintained if wheat growers approve marketing quotas in the June 25 national referendum. If quotas are not approved, the available support level under present farm law will be at 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.19 a bushel on the basis of present parity estimates.

Janet Cook Accepts
Position as Librarian
In Herrin High School

Miss Janet Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Cook, will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Education at commencement exercises at Southern Illinois university Sunday evening.

She has accepted a position as librarian in the Herrin high school next year.

Wife Lets Temper
Get Out of Hand

DECATUR, Ill. — Mrs. Dorothy Dial, 37, Cicero, let her temper get out of hand Friday. She got so angry she grabbed the steering wheel of the car her husband was driving along a Decatur street.

The car hit a light pole. William E. Dial, 31, backed the car away from the light pole.

Mrs. Dial again grabbed the wheel. This time the car ran up a guy wire. Mrs. Dial was taken to the hospital with head lacerations and contusions.

Deputies who investigated said she was still angry, but they didn't find out the reason.

Filibuster Bloc Forces
Adjournment After Only
15 Minutes of Session

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Illinois House filibuster bloc, in its fifth day of battle against administration forces behind the Chicago convention hall bills, today won a complete victory in only 15 minutes of a perfunctory session over a plot to weaken the filibuster's effect.

The filibuster group, the only members in attendance at the token session except for substitute Speaker Rollo R. Robbins (R-Au-gusta) forced adjournment of the House until it resumes in session next Tuesday.

The House leaders had a group of men on hand to act as substitute clerks to read the 466 House bills on the calendar simultaneously to comply with the constitutional requirement the filibusterers have been using to slow up the proceedings.

But the corps of assistant clerks never got a chance to read.

As soon as Robbins called the House to order and a prayer was given, Rep. John K. Morris (R-Chadwick), leader of the filibuster bloc, demanded the journal for Friday's session be read in full. Robbins said he hadn't even called for reading of the journal.

"That's the first order of business and you can't suspend the rules without 77 votes," Morris said.

Morris presented a formal, pre-arranged motion covering his grounds for demanding postponement until Tuesday morning. He then asked for a roll call. Robbins at first refused but after conferring with Winning called the roll. Eleven members of the filibuster bloc, the only members present, all Democrats, voted for adjournment.

The Republican side of the aisle was empty.

Governor Takes Hand

Morris revealed a member of Gov. William G. Stratton's staff had visited his desk twice to ask if he would call off the filibuster for a guarantee that the $4 million dollar Chicago convention hall bills are amended in the Senate.

The filibuster started when Morris and 17 other dissenters carried out their threat to tie up the House if the convention hall bills were called. The House passed the bill Tuesday.

Morris' chief objection to the bills has been that they give proceeds of the state fair and exposition fund, drawn from pari-mutuel horse race betting, almost exclusively to the Cook County Fair Authority to build the hall, cutting out downstate fairs. Most downstate fairs would be limited to their primary source of revenue, the agricultural premium fund.

Morris said he told the governor's emissary that he would accept the amendment under consideration. But no further word on this once-rejected amendment has come from House leaders.

Morris himself proposed a new use for the fair and exposition funds. He said the money could be better used for care and research in cerebral palsy, mental diseases, cancer, alcoholism and other diseases. He said he would be agreeable to diverting one-half of the agricultural premium fund to such uses, too.

Former Sheriff Found Guilty Of Tax Evasion

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—George V. Gruenewald, 67, Belleville, former St. Clair County sheriff, was found guilty on three counts of income tax evasion in Federal Court Friday.

His attorneys asked that he be placed on probation. U. S. District Judge Charles G. Briggie ordered a probation investigation before sentence is imposed. The judge set no date for sentencing. Briggie accepted the plea without a jury.

Gruenewald was indicted in June, 1954, on charges of evading $9,426 income taxes for 1949-50.

In asking for probation, his attorney, Dan McGlynn of East St. Louis, said Gruenewald would soon be 68, was suffering from a heart condition and was supporting his wife, who is ill, and two grandchildren.

Gruenewald was St. Clair County sheriff from 1942-46 and later was a deputy.

He proposed that the United States provide "access to and training in the technological processes of construction and operation for peaceful purposes."

The President took great pride in "substantial progress" already made in achieving agreements with other nations on exchange of atomic information.

He noted that agreements already have been signed with 10 nations—Turkey, Lebanon, Israel, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Denmark, Colombia, Brazil and Argentina. He said others are being negotiated.

After the commencement, the President participated in the laying of a cornerstone for a new all-faith chapel named for the university president's wife, Helen Eisenhower, who died last July.

Mr. Eisenhower flew from Washington to nearby Phillipsburg, Pa., Friday afternoon and spent the night at his brother's home on the campus.

He planned to fly to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm this afternoon to join his wife, Mamie, and to return to Washington late Sunday.

Proposes New Plan in Address At Penn State

Would Provide U. S.
Funds, Know-How
For Free Nations

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — President Eisenhower proposed today that the United States provide money and know-how to help free nations build atomic reactors for research and power.

He said he will soon submit to Congress a dual atoms-for-peace proposal under which the United States would:

1. Furnish half the cost of building research reactors for free nations which can use them for "peaceful atomic progress."

2. Provide the know-how "with-in prudent security considerations" for construction and operation of power reactors by friendly nations who would use them for peaceful pursuits.

Mr. Eisenhower unveiled his new plan in a commencement speech at Pennsylvania State University after inspecting a new atomic reactor on the campus, the first of its kind built under university auspices. At the commencement, the President received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the university, which is headed by his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Gateway to Progress

The President said his proposals offer "the gateway to a broad avenue of world progress in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

The offer, an extension of the atoms-for-peace plan he proposed in a United Nations speech Dec. 8, 1953, was addressed only to "free nations."

He said he still hopes Soviet Russia will join in "an international effort to harness the atom for man's good."

But he added, "I have such unlimited confidence in the creative use of free minds and in the capacity of free men that I know we will—with or without the Soviets—achieve a more abundant life for those who join together in this historic venture."

The offer to go 50-50 on the cost was limited to reactors for research. He said the United States also would provide the nuclear material needed for fuel.

The President said that if some single nation lacked the technical or material resources to make effective use of a research reactor, "we would support a voluntary grouping of the resources of several nations within a single region to acquire and operate it together."

Receptive Soil

"The research reactors acquired under this program will be fertile seeds for progress sown in the receptive soil of the free nations," he said.

"The cost to the people of the United States will be small indeed when measured against the certain returns, tangible and intangible."

The President did not indicate in his speech how many American dollars he would be willing to put into such a program.

His second proposal—to provide the know-how for building and operating power reactors—was aimed at countries which are prepared to invest their own funds.

He proposed that the United States provide "access to and training in the technological processes of construction and operation for peaceful purposes."

The President took great pride in "substantial progress" already made in achieving agreements with other nations on exchange of atomic information.

He noted that agreements already have been signed with 10 nations—Turkey, Lebanon, Israel, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Denmark, Colombia, Brazil and Argentina. He said others are being negotiated.

After the commencement, the President participated in the laying of a cornerstone for a new all-faith chapel named for the university president's wife, Helen Eisenhower, who died last July.

He planned to fly to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm this afternoon to join his wife, Mamie, and to return to Washington late Sunday.

All Farmers are Eligible for ACP Benefits

All farmers should now recognize that they are eligible to participate in the Agricultural Conservation program even though the corn and/or wheat allotment on the farm may be exceeded. Paul B. Whitlock of the local ASC office stated today.

Until recent legislation was passed farmers had to be in compliance with basic allotments for 1955 in order to be eligible for assistance
on limestone, waterway, pasture, and other practices offered under the ACP program. Now that this requirement has been repealed, farmers previously approved for practices should go right ahead with their conservation work regardless of their allotment plans.
There are also a number of farmers who failed to sign up previously because of the allotment provision. These farmers, suggested Mr. Whitlock, may now desire to participate in the conservation program, and should understand that they can still sign up for assistance by calling at the county office in City Hall, Harrisburg.

Considerable funds are still available, and farmers interested in additional conservation work are urged to come in and discuss the possibility of program cost-sharing.
The county committee will meet periodically and consider all currently filed requests, giving each consideration within the limits of program policy and available funds.
Mr. Whitlock explained.

In order to comply for cost-sharing a farmer must file his request before the practice is started, must receive a specific approval, and carry out the work according to specifications.

Practices offered in the county
are: Sod waterways, terraces, divisions, flumes or chutes and toe-wall outlets, ponds, tile outlets,
land leveling or shaping, contour strip-cropping, contouring, intertilled crops, removal of brush, pasture development, additional legumes, green manure seeding, limestone, tree planting, forest development, drainage ditches, erosion control structures and dams,
and rock phosphate.

Acidity of southern Illinois soils depends on soil type, land use, vegetative cover and amount of erosion.

From left the bundles of grass are from: an untreated check plot; a plot in which the only treatment of fescue sod was surface application of 500 pounds of 13-13-13 fertilizer per acre; and a plot in which the same amount of fertilizer was applied in the sod with a subsoil chisel penetrating to a depth of 21 inches at three-foot intervals. Applications were made a year ago in established fescue sod. (SIU News Photo)

Vacationers Urged to Prevent Forest Fires

Illinois families planning vacations in the national parks and forest areas of the country this year are urged to appoint themselves forest fire preventers.

A report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture states that forest fire damage on national forest areas last year amounted to $2.7 million. Of the 7,369 forest fires that were reported, 3,425 were caused by careless people.

Vacationers, especially those who plan to camp outdoors, are urged to observe all regulations regarding campfires and the use of open fires. Motorists who smoke are reminded that all cars are equipped with interior metal ash trays for discarded cigarettes.

Poison Ivy

Homemaking clubs in southern Illinois will owe Fred W. McMillan, forestry researcher at Dixon Springs, a debt of gratitude. Fred is preparing some twenty mounts to show the difference between poison ivy and other plants with which it is often confused.

Virginia creeper, a nonpoisonous five-leaf ivy, is commonly mistaken for poison ivy. Box elder, a three-leaf plant may also be confused with it. Box elder is a tree and ivy a vine, but Fred says they look somewhat alike in the seedling stages.

Forestry Tour

Forest supervisors and timber management assistants of national forester in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky spent Thursday at the Station. They were accompanied by other Forest Service personnel from the regional office in Milwaukee, the Central States Forest Experiment Station

and the Carbondale Research Center. The group was shown work in the management of shortleaf pine plantations being carried on at the Station under the direction of W. R. Boggess and F. W. Mc-Millan.

Fall Seeding of Clovers

A complete, once-over pasture seeding including grasses and clover was made last fall on some experimental pastures at Dixon Springs. The mixture included timothy, fescue, alfalfa, red clover and Ladino clover roller seeded in late August on a well fertilized and well prepared seedbed.
No nurse or cover crop was used,
nor was one needed, as a quick erosion-resistant cover was obtained. This spring excellent pasture forage is available, and for the past month six acres of this mixture have been carrying 24 head of yearling steers. This system of pasture seeding looks promising, particularly where the erosion hazard is not too great.

Some Parasitism in Lambs

Although a good ranching program against stomach worms was followed this spring, Norris Phelps, sheep herdsman, is finding that he must use another phenothiazine drench now. Lambs from poor-milking ewes are showing the greatest signs of parasitism. Also, the sheep are being sprayed with DDT
in the hope that it will help control maggots.

Horse Flies and Bill Bruce

Each spring the first horse fly and Bill Bruce arrive almost simultaneously at Dixon Springs.
Bill, a researcher in the Department of Natural History Survey at Urbana, who is doing work on fly control, tells us that he thinks he has a workable, low-cost chemical for horsefly control that can be used on the cable-type livestock scratches. While here, Bill made a very serviceable cable scratcher
from three strands of barbed wire, half a dozen burlap sacks and a little baling wire. He saturated it with an oil solution cut to about 5 percent DDT. Bill thinks it will control horn flies if it is located near watering or resting places where cattle will use it.

Start cutting legume hay crops
when the plants are 10 to 12 in bloom.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

June is not only the time "when a young man's fancy turns"; more recently it has become a time for "dairy days," "dairy weeks," or "dairy month." The nation's dairy industry, with the moral support of state and federal departments of agriculture, have come up with this special promotion period primarily for the purpose of draining from the market some of the extra milk production that always comes during spring months.
Another objective is to make the consuming public more milk conscious in the hope that consumption will be stimulated not only for June but for the entire year.

Something has been mentioned in past columns about the volume of milk produced in this nation and about the fact that if every person would drink an extra glass of milk
daily the dairy products surplus that has been plaguing the agricultural industry would just about disappear.

Nutritionists say that milk is appropriately lauded as the most nearly perfect of foods. It offers some 100 different nutrients — a long list of vitamins and minerals,
fats, sugar, and high quality protein. Milk and its many products have good taste appeal, are economical, and have no waste.

A quart of milk—four glasses—
furnishes approximately the following percentages of the daily nutritive requirement of an average man: calcium, 100; riboflavin, 93;
phosphorus, 61; protein, 49; vitamin A, 31; thiamin (vitamin Bone), 23; calories, 22; ascorbic acid, 17; niacin, 7; and iron, 5.

Calcium is one important exception to the fact that most nutritive values are found in many different foods. Milk and milk products are a primary food source of the calcium important to human health.
Hence the need for milk in the diet.

Milk is one of the oldest known foods. Records have been found showing that cows were being milked back in 9,000 B. C. Columbus brought cattle to the West Indies on his second trip to America in 1495—the first to reach the New World. The first imported to continental United States were brought over to the Jamestown colony in 1611, but the American dairy industry actually got started with the few cows that Plymouth colony received in 1624.

The Irish were the world's leaders in per capita consumption of milk and dairy products in 1953 reports, consuming an average of one and three-fourths quarts of milk or its equivalent per person daily.

In the marketing year ending March 31, consumption of fluid milk and several important dairy products increased in the U. S.— a tribute to the promotional efforts of the dairy industry. Some 115.3 billion pounds of milk products, a five percent increase over the previous year, went into civilian channels last year.

Did you know that of the 174 different flavors of ice cream made last year only three—vanilla, chocolate, and strawberry—comprised 72 percent of the entire volume of ice cream manufactured?

Let Lawn Grass Fight Crabgrass

Lawn specialists at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture remind home owners that one of the best ways to control crabgrass in the lawn is to let the desired lawn grasses do the fighting.
Refrain from cutting your grass shorter than 2 1/2 inches, and it will give a good account of itself in the struggle with crabgrass for sun, moisture and plant food.

Vote June 25 On Wheat Quotas

The referendum to determine whether or not the marketing quota program will be in operation for the 1956 wheat crop will be held June 25.

Paul B. Whitlock, chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, advises that arrangements for holding the referendum are now being made. Wheat growers will be notified at a later date where they may vote.

Each grower has been advised of his farm's 1956 wheat acreage allotment and will receive a leaflet explaining program operations.
Chairman Whitlock explains that if the vote is favorable the program will be in operation for the 1956 wheat crop, and price support for the crop will probably be between 75 and 82 percent of parity.
A farmer who exceeds his farm wheat allotment or 15 acres, whichever is larger, will be subject to a marketing penalty equal to 45 percent of parity on the excess production. If the vote is unfavorable, the support will be 50 percent of parity. In either case, only the wheat from farms where the wheat acreage allotment is not exceeded will be eligible for price support.

Chairman Whitlock points out that at least two-thirds of those farmers voting must favor the quotas if the program is to be in operation for the 1956 wheat crop. If more than one-third vote "no" the wheat marketing quota program will not be in operation for the 1956 wheat crop.

In a similar referendum held a year ago, the national vote was close, 208,623 for and 76,023 against —a favorable vote of 73.3 percent compared with the necessary 66-2/3 percent. In Illinois the vote was 5,640 for and 7,808 against; and in Saline county, 39 for and 48 against.

Dotty Shops To Open New Store at Herrin

Leonard Sanofsky of Marion, regional supervisor of the Dotty Shops, Inc., announces that the former Ben Franklin Store building at 210 North Park Avenue in Herrin has been leased and the company will open its seventh ladies ready-to-wear dress establishment there about August 15th.

The building will be completely remodeled in ultra-modern style, including a new front, new ceiling fluorescent lighting, and modern fixtures. It will be air conditioned.

The Dotty Shops was founded in Cairo in 1924, and has expanded during the past 31 years to include stores in Marion, Harrisburg, Anna, Fulton, Ky., and Union City, Tenn. Approximately ten people will be employed at the new Herrin store. The grand opening on August 15th will feature complete new fall merchandise.

Leonard Sanofsky resides at 513 Bainbridge Road in Marion. Headquarters for the chain of ladies ready-to-wear stores is now located in St. Louis and Charles Sanofsky is president of the organization. Charles managed the Harrisburg store for 17 years.

Home Bureau State Conference at Peoria June 14-17

The 18th annual Citizenship Conference of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation will be held for the fourth year at Bradley University, Peoria, from June 14 through June 17.

The Illinois Home Bureau Federation was organized at a conference held in January of 1924. The idea of a State Federation was originated by Mrs. Spencer Ewing of McLean county who became its first president.

In 1936, Mrs. Elsie Mies, who had served four years as president of the federation, introduced the idea of a summer conference. In cooperation with Home Economics Extension Service, this conference for county presidents and vice presidents has been held each year. At this conference plans are made, training for citizenship is given, and planned recreation and fellowship are enjoyed. The theme of the conference is "The home is the center of every woman's interest, but not the circumference."

Mrs. Walter Unsell, Saline county Home Bureau president, will attend.

Miss Toni Barton, Norman Bishop Wed At Calvary Baptist Church in Eldorado

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bishop

One of the first June weddings in the city of Eldorado was performed Saturday evening, June 4, when Miss Toni Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barton of Eldorado, became the bride of Norman Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Bishop of Raleigh.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Tabb in the Calvary Baptist church at eight o'clock before a beautifully decorated altar of greenery flanked on either side by vases of pale pink peonies and large philodendrons. Tall branches of candelabra containing pink lighted tapers were intermingled among the background of evergreen.

The candles were lighted by Misses Nettie Ann Gholson, Pat Elder and Darla Mills of Eldorado and Elma Gerhardt of this city. They wore pastel colored ballerina length formal with matching corsages.

Before and during the ceremony, Hal Bruce Burnett played a medley of appropriate organ music. He also accompanied Bill Coker who sang "Wonderful One."

The bridal party came down the white runner aisle between pews decorated with white satin bows and met before the white satin covered prayer rail.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful white skimmer gown designed with a drape shoulder of nylon illusion embroidered with pearl sequins and seed pearls. The bodice was tight fitting and the sleeves ended in a point over the hand. The double offskirt was of blush pink embroidered nylon illusion and formed a short train. The fingertip nylon illusion veil of blush pink was fastened to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white bride centered with a white orchid with a shower of satin trim.

Miss Beverly Bishop of Raleigh, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a pale blue net over taffeta and the full skirt fell gracefully over hoops. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds and wore a matching flower band in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kaye Taylor and Miss Velma Bishop of Raleigh, sister of the bridegroom. They wore waist length dresses of pink net over pink taffeta skirts with the bodices of white lace over pink taffeta. They carried identical First Baptist Craighead Circle Meets in Library.

The Craighead circle of the First Baptist church met June 9 at 2 p. m. in the library of the church with Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf as hostess.

The room was beautifully decorated with roses from the garden of Mrs. J. C. Lightner, a neighbor of Mrs. Metcalf.

The meeting was opened with the group singing "Take My Life and Let It Be." Mrs. Archie Abney, chairman, conducted the business meeting during which reports were given and the motion was made to buy two Bibles for Mrs. Stanley Price's Sunday school class at the Baptist mission.

The community mission is to visit the shut-ins and hold services.

Mrs. Price, program chairman, presented the program on "Stewardship," with scriptures being read by Mrs. Metcalf, Matt. 26:14, Mrs. Walter Wirth, Luke 12:33-34, and Mrs. Bolen Perkins, Luke 10:27.

Mrs. Abney read a poem after which the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Perkins. Six members accompanied Mrs. Netcalf to Webster Pharmacy where refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. George Lindemuth, Mrs. Bolen Perkins, Mrs. Stanley Price, Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. B. F. Land, Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf and Mrs. Walter Wirth.

Homecoming Held Sunday At Big Saline Church

The Homecoming at Big Saline church held Sunday was well attended. Bro. Mathew Roberts, pastor of the church, brought the morning message.

A basket dinner was spread on the church lawn at noon where visiting and reminiscing with old friends took place. The afternoon session was opened with congregational singing. Mrs. Fannie Driskell, the oldest member of the church, gave the opening prayer. The membership roll was called by the clerk, Mrs. Pearl Mattingly. A testimonial service was held.

Rev. J. W. Duke delivered an inspirational homecoming message in keeping with the great and final homecoming. Mention was made and sadness felt of the passing of Rev. Albert Cole who was a former pastor of Big Saline.

The Egyptian quartet sang several beautiful songs. Miss Stanslee Sue Lambert sang "Let the Sunshine In."

Old friends from surrounding communities were back home for the services. The meeting closed with the song "Amazing Grace" and a hand shake of fellowship.

Gray Nominated As Assistant Defense Secretary

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has nominated Gordon Gray, a Democrat and former Army secretary, to succeed H. Struve Hensel as assistant defense secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams and son, David, of Evansville, were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Driskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Estel Williams of Pontiac, Mich., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Conaway and other relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Dale Hancey of Equality visited one day recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hancey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Barnes called one night this week with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Oxford.

Humane Society to Hold Rummage Sale

The Country Store, the rummage sale sponsored by the Harrisburg Humane society, will be held next Thursday night, Friday and Saturday in the Raleigh building on West Poplar street. All persons having rummage to donate are asked to call either Mrs. Wil C. Land, Mrs. Grover Estes or Mrs. Tim Turner.

Rites at Omaha

Funeral services for Miss Ollie Black, 83, former resident of Omaha and Shawneetown who died Thursday night in the White county nursing home in Carmi, will be held today at 2 p. m. at the Omaha Methodist church. Rev. Roger Cuthison will officiate and burial will be in the Palestine No. 2 cemetery.

Bona Fide Federation Observes 15th Anniversary

The Bona Fide Federation club members celebrated their 15th anniversary in the dining room of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist church Tuesday night with a program and luncheon.

Mrs. Henry Garnett, program chairman, presided. The meeting opened with the singing of the club song after which the Misses Hennings gave two readings. Also a reading was given by Mrs. James Lewis.

A review of the life of Mrs. Mary Church Terrell of Washington, D. C., was given by Mrs. Ora Allen. Mrs. Terrell founded club work among colored women in 1896. It has grown in these years from local to district, state and national. The state clubs sponsor a scholarship and camps for youth. The national federation has purchased the home of Frederick Douglass. This house has all the personal effects in it as when he lived there. An annex furnishes a home for the keeper and rooms for girls who desire low rent while working in the city.

Mrs. James North is the local president. Mrs. Eddie Fryson was hostess and guests were members of the city club.

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton has signed into law 23 bills and vetoed three in his latest actions on legislation passed by the 69th General Assembly.

Two of the vetoes resulted from questions of constitutionality and the third from a mistake made in drafting a bill.

The bills vetoed would have permitted formation of interstate school districts, a measure specifically designed to solve a situation at Warren, near the Wisconsin border, permitted a land sale by the state Conservation Department in La Salle County, and amended the Finance Act in relation to interest funds.

Stratton said the attorney general's office found the school district and interest fund bills were unconstitutional. A new bill has been introduced by Sens. Fred J. Trager (R-Streator) and Clyde C. Hart (R-Peoria) to correct the mistake which caused the vetoing of the land sale bill.

The bills signed into law included measures to:

Virtually eliminate eight-month school years in the common schools by requiring that all school years consist of at least 185 days and authorizing school boards to extend school years to nine months. Redefine school buses to clarify traffic laws protecting against school bus accidents.

Create a $10,000 Illinois-Mississippi Canal and Sinissippi Lake Commission to study methods of using the canal and lake for recreational purposes.

Allow the Illinois Commerce Commission to waive filing and hearings on public utility easements and licenses with an annual payment of less than $2,500.

Methodist W.S.C.S. Holds Regular Meeting
The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Raleigh Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. June Johnson on Tuesday evening, June 7.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Lois Mick after the song service prayer was offered by Ruth Upchurch. The lesson "Lasting Peace and Security for All

THE HAT—Because he continually fooled with his cap while at bat for the Cardinals and Phillies, Harry Walker was nicknamed The Hat. The habit is even more pronounced now that Walker has the headaches of managing the St. Louis club while giving signs from the third base coach's box.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Walker, Opposite of Stanky, Is Used to Coming from Behind

NEW YORK (NEA)—When Harry Walker assumed command, the Cardinals kept right on losing. "It's nothing to lose your head about," says the new manager of the St. Louis club. "I've been through this before. One of my Rochester clubs started the year losing 21 of 30. We bounced back to finish third and beat a good Montreal club in the play-offs. Down 3-1 to Bill Skowron, Bob Cerv and that Kansas City bunch in the Little World Series, we came back to win three straight.

"I've been around runaway races before, too. Take 1942, when my brother, Dixie, and the Dodgers were counting money while they were 13 ahead. The Cardinals won and took the Yankees in the World Series."

Walker talks of the Cardinal organization—"it's really a family"—and fits into it. Stanky did not. Indeed, Harry the Hat is the opposite of Stanky. There will be no more fines and screaming.

"These men are pros," says Walker. "You get on them when they loaf, sure, or if they make a mistake again and again. But the worst thing you can do to a ball player, especially a hitter, when he is going badly, is yell at him. He'll start pressing when he has to relax. It's the same with a team. You can't get panicky."

Walker believes that the manner in which he conducted himself throughout his playing career with the Red Birds helped him to his present post.

"When they traded me to Philadelphia, and I won the batting championship, I didn't yell and attempt to show them up. It was the same when they shipped me to the minors in 1950. I didn't like either move, but there was no complaining."

"Most of the people in the organization were for me, I guess, and when I asked to manage, everybody said I could. So they sent me to Columbus, where I finished last with a real green club. With Rochester, I finished third, first and third, and won that Little World Series.

"This is a young Cardinal club.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The summer baseball program at Carrier Mills got off to a good start this week, with games played as per schedule.

Twelve teams have sponsors in the three leagues at Carrier Mills—there are four teams in each league—with the Stonefort American Legion post sponsoring three teams, one in each loop.

Sponsors are—Midget league, 8 to 12 years, Henshaw Clothing, Fife's Insurance, Stonefort American Legion and Dairy Brand; Minor league, 12 to 16 years, O'Keefe's, the Dari-Bar, Stonefort American Legion and Pyles Super-Market;

Major league, 16 to 20 years, Stonefort American Legion, Carrier Mills American Legion post 364, Will Scarlett mine and Pankey Gas.

Remember the late St. Louis Browns? That was the team in St. Louis that had so few followers it was finally moved out of town. But here in Harrisburg there were two or three Browns fans, including "Talk of the Town Nick." Nick is sponsoring a team in the Harrisburg Kiwanis league and this week one of the players came to The Register and said—"We have decided to call our team the Browns because of Uncle Nick." So the memory of the Browns continues.

A couple of my co-workers tell me they are entering the officiating field—at least they hope to as they have received their licenses from the state association authorizing them to call basketball games and also baseball. Bob Peyton, who played basketball at Galatia high school, and Tom Golden, HTHS athlete, both on The Register staff, are now fully accredited high school officials. All they need are some games and they will be in business.

Three local area stock car drivers are operating on the Metropolitan track this season—Jerry and Sam Brinkley from Equality and Bill Hazel of Harrisburg. Jerry Brinkley's car is a 1955 Pontiac engine from Poole's on a 1934 Ford. Sam drives a '34 Ford powered by a '49 Ford engine and Hazel is driving a Mercury. All three are doing all right on the Massac county track, it is reported.

The Rosiclare high school, member of the Greater Egyptian conference, is looking for a coach. It is reported in the Hardin County Independent. The independent reveals that J. E. Shadowen, who has been in Rosiclare for many years, has been transferred from his physical education and coaching duties to academic instruction by a recent action of the board of education.

Easy Way of Paying Fines for Parking

BURLINGTON, Wis. — An almost painless method of collecting fines for overtime parking. Small metal boxes are attached to the parking meters, and motorists who have been tagged for parking violations can put the required amount of money in an envelope attached to the ticket and drop it in the box.

Police Chief Roy McCourt said the number of fines paid has increased under the new system since it is so much easier to do now. Under the old system, the violator had the option of going to the police station to pay the fine or mailing it in.

Nashua was 1 to 5 to win, with lightly raced Jabneh second choice at a liberal 8 to 1. Jabneh, winner of two races at the Belmont Park meeting, never had started in a stakes race and he sported the colors of a new owner in his first venture against class horses.

STATISTICIAN NEWCOMBE—When not pitching, Don Newcombe charts pitches made by fellow pitchers. A record is kept of what opponents hit, strike at and let go by. Signs and symbols show where every pitch is hit and what type delivery.

Stars to Play Uniontown Colored Team Here Sunday

The Harrisburg Stars will be host to the Uniontown, Ky., Negro baseball team at the Harrisburg town park diamond Sunday, game time 2:15 p. m.

Uniontown will feature "Big Jim" Bumpus, well known hurler who has appeared many times in this area and also pitched in Negro professional circles.

Don Wallace is listed to start on the mound for the Stars and Cowger will be his receiver. Others listed to start are Burgett, 1b, Shewmake 2b, Ziegler ss, Sisky 3b, Smith If, K. Nolen cf and Harrison rf.

The Stars now have a season record of 4 victories and one loss. All players are asked to report to the diamond by 12:30 p. m. for pregame hitting and fielding practice.

Chicago Cubs IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Cubs are rolling along in second place with the season one-third gone but you can't blame the National League if nobody seems to take them seriously.

The Cubs are shrugged off as being "hot" merely for the moment. Baseball men can give you a lot of reasons why they are up there for the time being. But they also tell you it can't last.

Their reasons are these:

1. Two players who have been their big guns figure to "level off."
2. The club has profited during the troubles of such as the Braves, Giants, Reds and Cardinals.
3. The pitchers won't win the close ones when the hitting tails off.
4. The Cubs lack depth to meet the pressure of the "dog days."

Whether they are right remains to be seen. But you can't contest the figures on which these assumptions are based.

Long-Ball Guns
Randy Jackson and Bob Speake have been their long-ball guns to date. Yet Jackson is traditionally a spring hitting with an overall major league average of .266. Speake, hitting sensationally, batted only .264 at Des Moines last season.

There can be no question but what Ernie Banks and Gene Baker give the Cubs one of the finest second base combinations in the big leagues. But filling out that middle line is Eddie Miksis, a long-time infielder, playing center field. His 10-year average is .240 and the debate centers around whether he can continue as a year-long standout.

The outfield could be the major stumbling block. Even should Miksis and Speake go great guns all the way, a debatable thought, Manager Stan Hack scrambles to fill the other slot. Eventually he probably will have to go back to Hank Sauer and thereby sacrifice defensive strength.

Pitchers Look Good
With the hitting behind them, the pitchers have looked good. Warren Hacker has made a comeback with six victories which match his whole total of wins in 1954. Hal Jeffcoat has been impressive in relief. Bob Rush always has been a willing worker and there is added help from Sam (Toothpick) Jones, up from Indianapolis.

Yet, even while doing yeoman work, they are not regarded around the league as the type of pitchers who can win those close, low-run affairs when the hitting falls off and they have to scrape through on one or two runs.

Thus the theory around the league that the Cubs haven't run away in getting up to second place but that the rest of the league has fallen away for the time being. There seems to be small doubt, generally, but what that the Braves, Giants, Reds and Cardinals all should eventually collar the Cubs.

The Cubs, of course, have other ideas. But certainly if they can just outlast two of those teams and finish in the first division, Stan Hack will have done one of the best managerial jobs of the year.

Ted Williams Lifts Batting Average as Red Sox Win; Dodgers Blank Cubs, 7 to 0

By United Press
Ted Williams batted .342 when he won his first most valuable player award nine years ago—and that's exactly what he's hitting today.

That's statistical proof, if American league pitchers needed it, that neither a second tour of military service, a couple of broken bones or the years has dimmed the Boston Red Sox slugger's eye. There's a whole crop of new sluggers since Williams led the Red Sox to the pennant in 1946 but Ted's still the daddy of 'em all.

Williams lifted his current batting average to .342 Friday when he blasted two home runs and a single to lead the Red Sox to a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. It was Ted's first appearance at Briggs stadium since his comeback and he made it plain it's still his favorite park. In the past he's staged many of his most spectacular batting shows—including last year's 9-for-10 comeback—at that park.

Williams walloped his first homer of the game off Duke Maas in the first inning and then clouted his second with a mate aboard off the rookie left-hander in the third inning. In his last three tries, the 36-year-old slugger walked, struck out and beat out an infield hit.

Dodgers Win

The league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, meanwhile, padded their margins with victories in the openers of important four-game series. The runaway Dodgers stretched their lead to 9 1/2 games with a 7-0 win over the second-place Chicago Cubs while the Yankees opened up a 5 1/2 game lead over the idle Chicago White Sox with a 3-2 verdict over the faltering Cleveland Indians.

Carl Erskine pitched a four-hitter for his eighth win and Roy Campanella, Peevée Reese and Erskine homered in Brooklyn's triumph.

Brilliant relief pitching by Tom Morgan and Jim Konstanty helped the Yankees hand the Indians their fourth straight loss and seventh in eight games. The four-game

Basilio Wins Welter Crown From DeMarco

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Hatchet-faced, sail-eared Carmen Basilio—who battered the welterweight crown off Tony DeMarco's head—said today, "I want to defend the title as soon as possible."

The new king of the 147-pounders declared, "I want action. I want to be a fighting champion. I want to make money. I'd like to defend within three months, possibly against Johnny Saxton. But that's all up to my managers."

Basilio, a former onion-farmer who was so disgusted with his prize-fighting career that he retired temporarily four years ago, was admittedly "tickled pink" by his technical knockout victory over stocky DeMarco of Boston Friday night in the 12th round.

Floored Twice
DeMarco, who was floored twice in the 16th and stopped at 1:52 of the 12th, had no return-bout contract as he lost the title after the shortest reign in the welter division's 75-year history.

Black-haired Tony held it for 70 days after winning it from Brooklyn's Johnny Saxton on a 14th-round TKO on April 1. DeMarco, 23, suffered gashes on each brow, and his nose bled profusely in the later rounds of their savagely fought encounter. Basilio wound up with a cut under his left eye, one on his right brow and a split in his left upper lip.

There were no knockdowns until the 10th, although DeMarco's faster punching rocked Carmen well in the third, sixth and seventh. But Basilio's smashing counters to body and head had DeMarco hurt, in varying degrees, in the first, fourth, eighth, ninth, 10th and 11th.

Coffee, cocoa and tea accounted for 16 per cent of all United States merchandise imports in 1953.

'Young King Josiah'

II Chronicles 34:1-12
GOLDEN TEXT: "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to thy word." (Psalm 119:9).

INTRODUCTION: Are young people any different today than young people were in generations past? I think not. They face the same temptations that have been confronting young people for hundreds of years.

We see so much in our newspapers about delinquency that it is magnified out of proportion. We hear about it on the radio and see it on TV until we are liable to think that there are no really good young people. The fact is, there are many fine, dependable, honest young people today. If you do not believe this, you should attend church more often. Some of the choicest young people in America today are found taking active parts in our churches.

We are studying in our Sunday School lesson this week about a young man who became king. In fact, he came to be one of the best kings in all of Bible history. His name was Josiah.

I JOSIAH—A GOOD YOUNG MAN (V. 1-2)
After the kingdom was purged of all of the false idols, Josiah set about to repair the Temple. This was in his eighteenth year as King of Judah. He was twenty-six years of age.

Notice that the money came in for the rebuilding and repair of the Temple. It always does when God's people trust Him in such matters. My! we do feel so sorry for some timid souls who are afraid to venture out in God's work. Great church buildings are being built and paid for today where the people have faith in God.

Notice, also, that there was a place of service for the carpenters, stone-masons, lumber-men and others. Everyone can pitch in and help. All they need is the will to work for and trust God.

CONCLUSION (II Kings 22:8-23:3)
The verses tell us that they found the "book of the law." This is the first five books of the Bible. They studied these books and a revival broke out in the land. The king and his people were wonderfully blessed.

We have copies of the Bible in our homes. Perhaps you need to discover some of the rich blessings contained therein. Young people and parents can find the way to happiness by reading their Bibles and praying daily.

Young King Josiah'

Here we see the fine influence of a young person. You say, "but he was King of Judah and had power." True enough, but we know young people today who are using their influence for Christ. A few weeks ago we saw a fine high school senior lead her mother and dad to accept Christ as their personal Saviour. We know some young people who are "letting their light shine," for Christ daily. Any person can who desires to do so.

III JOSIAH RESTORED THE TEMPLE (V. 8-12)
After the kingdom was purged of all of the false idols, Josiah set about to repair the Temple. This was in his eighteenth year as King of Judah. He was twenty-six years of age.
